What is the Change to the 911 Service Fee?

Previously, Kenton County funded 911 emergency dispatch operations through an annual per parcel fee, whereby, each parcel in Kenton County was levied a fee of sixty dollars ($60.00) on its county property tax bill. Kenton County is migrating to a land use density fee. Every parcel will be assessed a fee based on the land use as defined by the Property Valuation Administrator's office (PVA).

How the Fee is Calculated:

Actual cost is calculated by using the calls for service in each land use category so that each group is paying a fair fee.

The Fiscal Court estimated the funds needed to sustain the County Dispatch Operations, and studied 911 call data from 2015 and 2016. After calculating the total 911 calls to each parcel, the land use codes of all parcels were organized into six different land use density types. We then used the portion of all 911 calls to those parcels to determine what portion of revenue these parcels were responsible for. We divided the total allocated revenue responsibility by total number of parcels of each land use density type and standardized the fees for ease of billing.

Fee Grouping	Description	911 Standardized Fee 2017

* No residential land use will owe more than $75 per unit.

Radio System Project

The Kenton County Fiscal Court, in conjunction with the counties of Boone and Campbell, is converting the outdated analog public safety radio systems to a new digital 800Mhz system. This new system will drastically improve communication and interoperability amongst first responders (i.e. police, fire and emergency management) thus creating a safer community throughout the entire three county region. The current timeline for this project is to be completed in late 2018.
