General Business

A. Presentation of a Proclamation declaring the week of April 9-15, 2023 as National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week.

Judge Knochelmann presented Director Ashley Hawks and her team with the Proclamation declaring the week of April 9-15 as National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week.

Ashley Hawks stated that this proclamation is so much more to her department than a piece of paper. It is easy with a group of people who are often heard but never seen to forget that they are a vital link and the first person to start the emergency response cycle of an event. By bringing attention to our dispatchers in Kenton County, we are promoting the public safety group throughout the county and it is also helping our people feel proud of their careers and help promote this career across Northern Kentucky and throughout the State. They very much appreciate what the Fiscal Court does for them throughout the year.

Judge Knochelmann thanked the whole team, and the County has never had as good of a group as there is now under Ms. Hawks' leadership.

B. Update on the Emergency Shelter of Northern Kentucky from Kim Webb.

Director of the Emergency Shelter Kim Webb thanked the Fiscal Court again, as they moved into their new facility February 14, 2022. They officially became full blown seven days a week, 24 hours a day and 365 days a year. They are very grateful to the Fiscal Court and St. Elizabeth Healthcare for navigating this and getting them off of Scott St. The move allowed them to go to a year round emergency shelter for men that is low barrier and immediate entrance. They continue the winter cold shelter for men and women from November to March. They have a year round housing work program for men, and piloted women during the winter. They have the navigation center that includes shower and laundry facilities. Also, they have the ability to meet with staff, charge their phones, use the computer work stations and are able to use the shelter's address as their own. This is a big thing in Frankfort to expand that bill to allow IDs with that address, as that is often the first step to rebuilding sufficiency and stability. In that regard, they have expanded street outreach, and have 1.5 FTE out in the streets in Kenton County so they are not duplicating efforts.

Ms. Webb then stated that the other big thing they have done is the onsite health care clinic that started on May 10, 2022. This purely funded by the Emergency Shelter of Northern Kentucky through private dollars and grants, and from a little bit of a grant from St. Elizabeth. That clinic is open six evenings a week for about three to three and a half hours, and serve around 11 folks coming in that are actually spending the night in shelter. In 246 days, there were over 3,000 clinic visits, and this is crucial because this addresses the social determinants of health. It also stresses their role to provide holistic care to adults experiencing homelessness. They did an in depth data pool, and that resulted in from May 10 to the end of November, 2022, there were 716 visits, with roughly 44 resulting in an ambulance run. A lot of times at Scott St. they had to call the squad every time someone didn't feel well. Staffing that is the APRN from St. Elizabeth Health that is in the building four nights a week, and they also have the UK College of Medicine students that this is the only place in our community is providing firsthand, real world experience for them. They are in two nights a week, and are under the supervision of a resident or attending. They also brought back their nurse advocacy center for the underserved, and Lynne has been coming in one to two times a week.

Ms. Webb then stated that they underwent a massive data reorganization, and they are fortunate enough to access a data system in Cincinnati (Strategies on Homelessness) which is personalized for them. They started that on July 1, 2022, so from July 1 to March 1 there were 1,041 unique adults that accessed street outreach, navigation center, shower and laundry, emergency shelter and the housing work program. Of that, the emergency shelter accounted for 749 guests for almost 12,000 bed nights. Their transitional housing work program has 57 exited, accounting for 2,290 bed nights with a 67% success rate for housing. They are helping men and women go into market rate housing. They connected with 314 adults with street outreach, accounting for 472 contacts with them. Individuals that will not shelter with them at night accounted for 277 adults using laundry or shower for over 1500 units. The question is always what number of the 1,041 are Kentucky residents, so of that Kentucky accounts for 498 of them (47.83%). Of the Kentucky, the NKADD accounts for 455 of them. Kenton County leads the way with 335 of the 498. When they talk about the last known residence, this is what they asking someone. Hamilton County accounts for 265. She called on Strategies on Homelessness today to get data on how many Northern Kentucky residents have accessed Hamilton County, and as of today 453 Northern Kentucky residents traveled to Cincinnati. They asked age bracket as well, and found that the 55 and up crowd accounts for 26.89%, the 35-44 is 25%, the 45-54 is 22%, 25-34 is 19% and the 18-24 is 7%. There is a lack of income-based housing for people to live in our community. Lastly, they ask adults as part of the intake process to self-report any medical diagnosis they have or chronic health condition. The number one was 21% reported a mental health disorder, 15.6% reported a physical disability, 14% reported a substance abuse disorder, 13.6% reported mental health and substance abuse, 11% reported a chronic health condition, 2% reported a developmental disability and .05% for HIV/AIDS. The chronic homeless population has risen from 10-30%.

Commissioner Draud stated that he finds it surprising that only 45% are from Kentucky.

Ms. Webb stated that there is also a percentage that refuses to answer or didn't know. That accounted for 17%. Currently, Hamilton County accounts for 26.45%. There are some from Indiana and other states as well.

Commissioner Draud asked how that compares to the one we had on Scott St.?

Ms. Webb answered that they are prioritizing those that have a Kentucky ID in hand.

Judge Knochelmann stated that historically we have always had a high percentage of non-Kentuckians, and Ohio is taking care of more Kentuckians though.

Commissioner Draud asked how much money they made at their fundraiser.

Ms. Webb answered that they had a sellout crowd, and they are inching towards $100,000. Their budget for the new building is about $1.2 million. It speaks volumes about how emergency shelters are funded across the nation. Currently, the Kentucky Housing Corporation that manages the balance, they are not prioritizing low barrier/immediate entrance shelters, which means guests are not prescreened. Communities fund through city and county dollars, and they continue to navigate that conversation with the Kentucky Housing Corporation. They, of the $2.6 million that they received, allocated $1.3 million to emergency sheltering for 118 of the counties. There is no money or priority for emergency sheltering that is immediate low barrier entrance. She applauds the efforts of the court, especially Kenton County.

Commissioner Draud asked what happened to the committee that he recommended?

Judge Knochelmann answered that Boone and Campbell's commitment to the issue is greater than it was, but is still there is no physical footprint that helps solve that problem.

Commissioner Sewell asked that of all of those that are taken care of, how many of them speak to them and say they want to be in permanent housing?

Ms. Webb answered that nobody wants to sleep outside.

Commissioner Draud stated that he read that some homeless people don't want to stay in a facility, because they want to do drugs and alcohol.

Ms. Webb stated that there are some people that will never enter a shelter, and there are some people that will choose to live on the street. A great example right now is that when you are exited from services from other agencies, and you now have to wait or have to meet a federal definition to homelessness before you can access services. They are seeing people showing up where housing options have fallen through, and seeing senior citizens showing up more frequently now with intense medical needs that they can't attend to. The staff at the Emergency Shelter face trauma every day because they have to turn folks away that don't have any other opportunities in Northern Kentucky.

Commissioner Draud asked if Welcome House only accepts families?

Ms. Webb answered that she isn't sure if she could speak about this. As she understands it, it is women and children, and she thinks the new facility is men with kids and families. They are moving Family Promise from Newport to their facility. The Emergency Shelter's women's beds have been full when the weather is really cold, but their numbers drop. She then spoke about the warming center in their facility. She appreciated the Fiscal Court dollars.

C. Acknowledgement of the receipt of the Kenton County Jailer's 2023-2024 budget prior to the statutory deadline of April 1, 2023.

Jailer Marc Fields stated that there will be an increase in medical expenses this year, and a lot of it has to do with the seriousness of the illnesses that they are seeing. There is a large percentage of those that will identify as homeless when they are booked into the jail. Also, a lot of the capital is two big projects. One is the rec yards and the other one is the roof.

Judge Knochelmann stated that it has been acknowledged that the budget has been received..

D. Request approval of a reimbursement agreement between the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet and the Kenton County Fiscal Court for the parking structure feasibility and predevelopment services.

County Administrator Joe Shriver stated that the court did approve the letter of intent a few meetings ago. This is the actual agreement. It will be how we get paid from the State for the next item on the agenda.

Commissioner Draud made the motion for approval; seconded by Commissioner Sewell. Judge Executive Knochelmann called for a voice vote, and the motion passed unanimously 4-0.

E. Request approval of the fee proposal from Gresham Smith for the predevelopment services for the parking structure at the Kenton County Administration Building.

A Resolution for the Kenton County Fiscal Court concerning referral hires for all positions at the Kenton County Detention Center.

County Administrator Joe Shriver stated that this is a program that Boone County had implemented in their facility, and it has had some success. Anything that will help us attract and retain jail deputies seems to make sense. At max, if we kept the person for a year it would be $1,750 that the referrer would ultimately get, and if he does the math if they had ten retainees that is $17000 which more than pays for itself in the overtime that does not have to be paid.

Administrative Reporting

Police Department

Chief Spike Jones stated that Officers Allgeier, Fields and Sergeant Rohe are being awarded the Kenton County Police Department's Official Commendation for their involvement in the recovery of $175,000.00 worth of Heroin which had been laced with fentanyl. This all began as a traffic stop for speeding on I-75 but quickly turned into a lot more. By getting these dangerous drugs off our streets and arresting the dealer, they have undoubtedly saved countless lives.

Chief Jones then stated that during the aforementioned arrest incident involving fentanyl our own Officer Allgeier became exposed to the dangerous substance and began experiencing symptoms of an overdose. Officer Hogan was the closest officer in proximity to Officer Allgeier and arrived to assist. Officer Hogan administered the lifesaving drug Narcan and stopped the overdose from progressing. We are all very thankful for Officer Hogan and we are very lucky to have him on our team. It gives me great pride to present Officer Hogan with this Official Commendation for his service.

Chief Jones then stated that Officers Whitford, Reis and Bryson responded to a medical emergency of an unresponsive subject located at their home on Wilson Road. Upon arrival, the officers began providing lifesaving CPR and rescue breathing as no pulse or respirations were evident. Officers also used their AED device to shock the patient twice in an attempt to restore a heartbeat. After the second attempt with the AED, the patient began gasping for air and regained a heartbeat. The patient was transported by life squad and we are pleased to say has made a remarkable recovery. We are thankful for these officers and efforts they have undertaken to maintain our CFR program. It gives me great pride to award each of these officers the Kenton County Police, Life Saving Award.

Judge Knochelmann stated the court's deep appreciation for these gentlemen and all they do for the citizens. He then gave his appreciation to their families for allowing them to serve Kenton County.

Commissioner Draud stated that the Fiscal Court appreciates the dispatch center and the police as evidenced in the way that the court backs them. The court offers great support, and the Chief is providing good leadership. The quality of our patrolmen and dispatch center is number one. He is proud to be a part of a court that supports the police instead of criticizing and downplaying the importance of the police. He appreciates all that they do.

Commissioner Sewell stated that we were all listening to the reports of the officers that reacted so quickly and assuredly during the shootings that happened in Nashville, and she thought of all of our officers and their families. She is certain that we have the quality of people that would do the very same thing to protect our children, families and lives. We are deeply indebted to all of them, and thank you for taking risks and being there for all of us.

Commissioner Nienaber stated that when he was the Mayor of Ft. Wright, it used to scare him to death to see the police officers on I-75, because it is such a dangerous situation let alone have a fentanyl crisis and all they deal with today. Humankind has never tested us as much as in the past twenty years, and the officers are responding to the call and it is appreciated. He thanked their families as well.

Detention Center

Jailer Marc Fields thanked the Fiscal Court for their support. The support that public safety and all of the departments get from the Fiscal Court is unbelievable.

Commissioner Draud stated that it works best when you have good employees, and the Fiscal Court gives their support.

Jailer Fields stated that their population today is 570. Last time he reported, he read an email from the State Department of Corrections that they had shutdown because of COVID again. This meeting he has good news. They are shipping ten to the State next week, so they have opened back up. Last February they booked in 537 inmates, and this year there were 536. So far, in March they have booked 602 due to the warmer weather.

Jailer Fields then stated that he had a meeting last week with two of Mitch McConnell's Field Reps., and he spoke about getting the Medicaid waiver approved for Kentucky. In California they are now being able to charge for that stuff, so it needs to spread this way. Hopefully, it will get here sooner rather than later because that is a huge problem for them especially on the mental health part. He thought it was ironic what Kim Webb was saying, because they see exactly the same thing inside their four walls. Mental health is just outrageous right now. On a bright note, their Substance Abuse Director, Bethany Ball and the Population Coordinator, Paul Daring are going to New Orleans in April to present at the National Commission of Correction Healthcare Conference, and they will be talking about some of the stuff Kenton County is doing. It is a mental health focus, and he thinks their part of this is going to be seeing the aftercare. The CORE grant is so important, because when people get out if they have completed our program, they are going to that six weeks of sober living housing. That is where the success comes from, so as long as we can keep that program or expand it maybe it will help with diversion.

Emergency Communications

Ashley Hawks stated that she completed their annual report for 2022, and it has all of the usual numbers expected in it. She quantified the number of fire calls, police calls, 911 calls and administrative calls they have answered. All of it is exactly what they would expect it to be, and it is continuing on the trends that they have seen over the last few years, where 91% of their business is police related and 9% is fire related. Their calls for service continue to go up with wireless calls, and wire line calls continue to go down. The number of 911 calls continue to peak in the summer months, and go down in the winter months. She asked them to look at all of the things in the report that have to do with their employees and staff. The incredible things that they did in 2022 as a result of all the projects they completed and all of the upgrades that they did was to develop the personnel that they already have. They have developed and trained two additional trainers, created people who will go out and do recruitment events (attended four different recruitment events last year),, and there is a breakdown of the years of service of the staff. 55% of their staff have more than 15 years of service, which is a tremendous amount of knowledge. So, as it ties into the different projects that have been done such as the breakroom, kitchen and the desks, and it has really motivated the staff to step up and become a more cohesive team.

Commissioner Draud stated that Ashley is doing a good job, and to keep it up.

Emergency Management

Steve Hensley thanked Ashley Hawks and her team for all that they do for them. He then stated that they hosted DOCJT Crisis intervention training in the EOC, Facility very well received. The last CPR/AED classes we were completed at Public Works last week. They may schedule one additional training opportunity for anyone that missed the other offerings.

Mr. Hensley then stated that their final community partner hazardous mitigation is scheduled for tomorrow. This meeting will consist primarily of their utility partners and river cities. Also, the EHS Facilities inspections have been completed, and the plans have been submitted to the state.

Mr. Hensley then stated that they plan to attend the South Kenton Meeting Thursday evening. He gave thanks to the County Attorney's staff for their assistance, in collecting the reimbursements for the bridge accident/explosion.

County Attorney 's Report

County Attorney Stacy Tapke thanked Steve Hensley and his team for the AED and CPR training, and she encourages everyone to learn this.

Commissioners ' Reports

Commissioner Nienaber

Commissioner Nienaber stated that he is just happy to be sitting with the Commissioners, the Judge and the county staff.

Commissioner Jon Draud

Commissioner Draud stated that he represented Judge Knochelmann at the Child Abuse Prevention program that Tom Gill sponsored. It was a very impressive program, and there were over 200 people there. Tom Gill has really been committed to this cause, and he has donated over $100,000 to the Family Nurturing Center over a 16 year period.

Commissioner Draud then stated that he has a question for Scott Gunning. What was sent out about the property said that it was valued at $750,000 in 2006, and now they are only valuating it at $300,000.

Assistant County Administrator Scott Gunning stated that they paid $750,000 for it.

Commissioner Draud asked how they account for the fact that it is only worth $300,000 now?

Judge Knochelmann answered that he was around on the Court then, so he has to take some ownership of that.

Mr. Gunning stated that the zoning and the topography challenges with the property, along with a fiberoptic line running through it are what has reduced the value.

Judge Knochelmann stated that there is more knowledge on the property now. Also, it is zoned only residential. At the time it was commercial as well.

Commissioner Draud asked why the County bought it?

Judge Knochelmann answered that it was going to be the jail.

Commissioner Draud then stated that he read an article in LINK about the City of Covington and their new building, and it doesn't say anything about how the county donated the property for $330,000 or whatever it was. He would like for Sara Sgantas to prepare a press release emphasizing the donation, as well as the cooperation between the county and the city working together. It seemed that the County had nothing to do with it from the article. That is a pretty significant move, as we gave away a building that was worth over $300,000.

Judge Knochelmann stated that he did see one post from the city that did list the county.

Commissioner Draud stated that the President of Xavier University, a woman who has only been there a year and a half, had an article on Cincinnati.com. About a week ago, they announced that Joe Deters would be a resident appearing at different times with no pay. A bunch of the students rose up and said no. She said that college campuses should be a forum for different ideas where both sides of the story are presented, and you let the learner decide for themselves what they want to believe. It was refreshing to see a college administrator have enough backbone to do the right thing.

Commissioner Beth Sewell

Commissioner Sewell had nothing to report.

Judge/Executive 's Report

Judge Knochelmann had nothing to report.
